Director fired

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

The Rails' End Gallery curator, Lucinda St. Pierre, was fired one day before her first anniversary on the job, but the board of directors will not disclose publicly the reason for her dismissal.

St. Pierre's employment was terminated last Tuesday after she refused to resign at the request of the directors of the Guild of Fine Arts.

President of the guild, Ruth Gorrie, said Monday the board had been advised by its legal counsel not to release any statements to the press. She did note that some of the members of the board had wished to release information concerning the personnel matter to the press. Individual members of the board were warned not to speak to the media.

However, St. Pierre told The Echo Friday about the events that eventually led to her dismissal.

According to the former curator, who was employed part-time from the early part of 1981 and began her full-time duties in July of that year, the firing stemmed from her hesitance to convene the guild's summer sale, which officially opened last Friday evening.

May 26, while St. Pierre was organizing the summer sale, she was told by some of the local craftspeople involved that they were not satisfied with the manner she planned to conduct the show.

Since she felt the organization of the show was not her responsibility, St. Pierre withdrew from the project. She had worked peripherally on the previous year's show but not to any great extent, as she had just begun her work for the guild, the former curator explained.

St. Pierre said she had no contract with the guild and no job description.

As the conflict gained momentum, the board passed a motion on June 16, that St. Pierre must convene the show or tender her resignation, she said. At that meeting, the curator requested time to consider the board's decision.

A meeting was scheduled June 21 for St. Pierre to give her decision to the board. The Echo was informed of the meeting and invited to attend by one of the members of the board. Gorrie later revoked that invitation. The meeting was cancelled later the same day.

St. Pierre said she was not informed why the meeting had been cancelled. "I assumed when the meeting was cancelled that it wasn't that important," she said.

June 23, St. Pierre learned the board planned a closed door meeting for the following evening. According to the former curator she was not invited.

During that week, St. Pierre contacted a legal advisor in the Toronto area and when she returned to Haliburton she was prepared to convene the summer show. According to the former curator she was never allowed to give her decision to the board.

At 9:30 a.m., June 26, Gorrie and board member Alan Oakley told St. Pierre the board had requested her resignation again.

When she did not tender her resignation, St. Pierre was told, at 4:30 p.m. last Tuesday, her employment was terminated "immediately".

To add confusion to the firing, the board of education, which pays 25 per cent of St. Pierre's wages, was not officially notified either prior to the action or as late as Monday. Gorrie said a letter of explanation was being prepared.

Chairman of the board of education, Cheryl Murdoch, had no direct contact with the guild over the matter, but director of education Douglas Hodgson, admitted he had had "informal" meetings with Gorrie to discuss the request for St. Pierre's resignation.

Murdoch said the firing was a "direct dealing with the guild" and that the board was satisfied with St. Pierre's artistic work with students in the county school system.

"From our end, we were pleased with what she was doing," Murdoch said.

After hearing St. Pierre's end-of-the-year report at the June meeting of the board of education, Murdoch said "we were quite willing to go around again". She said the board of education would consider another joint agreement with the guild if another curator was hired.

Members of the Guild of Fine Arts board of directors, whose term ended May 31, are Gorrie, Oakley, Dave Chatfield, Marg Fedorchuk, Catherine Wilkinson, Michael Butz, Joan Stinson, Dave Stephenson, Steven Phillips, Barb Peel, Barb Bolin, Mary Wallace, Marie Wallace and Dorothy Kinsman. Past-president Donna Monk serves ex-officio.

Although the guild's general meeting and election of officers is scheduled usually in September, the circumstances have pressured the board to hold the general meeting July 19, according to Gorrie.

At that time a new board of directors will be elected and the general membership will be asked if it wishes to hire another curator or suggest alternatives the guild might consider, the president said.

Since St. Pierre's dismissal, volunteers have worked at both the gallery and the summer sale, Gorrie said.

Marilyn Stouffer and her choir sang at the opening of the Guild of Fine Arts twentieth annual arts and craft exhibition. Four hundred and fifty people turned out for the first hour of the sale at Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School.

Radio station goes back on the air

Haliburton classical music fans were overjoyed at the recent decision by the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) to reinstate the licence of CFMX-FM in Coburg.

The station went off the air last September when the CRTC decided it had not lived up to its programming commitments.

The station had been off the air for several months due to problems with its electrical supply system and had an insufficiently large record library, according to CRTC standards.

The CRTC decision brought protests from hundreds of people and organizations in Ontario and as far away as Rochester, New York. A group of former listeners organized a "Friends of CFMX" group to lobby to have a decision overturned.

In January the CRTC decided to reopen the CFMX case and a large number of individuals and groups made presentations to the commission at a public hearing.

The CRTC reversed its decision last week and the radio station will return to the air on August 27.

"We're very pleased," said Mary Biggs of Wilberforce, one of the local people who protested the CRTC decision. Biggs said that she was worried that the decision would not come through in favour of the station.

In her letter to the CRTC earlier this year Biggs pointed out, "We have very limited TV coverage, no educational stations and seldom see a quality programme so naturally we turn to classical music."

Biggs said she discovered the station by accident about a year before the station lost its licence. She says she was particularly fond of Don Newland's music programme.

Biggs attended the public hearing and reports it was a satisfactory procedure.

"There was no bias," Biggs said. "I thought they were very fair."

Violet Mathews, also from Wilberforce, said the new decision was gratifying. Mathews had protested that rescinding CFMX's licence left those in less populated areas of the province without access to concerts and opera on the FM frequencies.

"I'm extremely pleased," Mathews said. "I was worried when nothing was heard for so long."

Mathews said she believes the station will be including some new elements, including talk shows, in its programming when it returns to the air. She is looking forward to listening to it again.

Jean Frazer of Gooderham said she was delighted the CRTC had reversed itself. "I wrote several letters to the government about it," Frazer said.

Frazer, who was a member of "Friends of CFMX" said the organization is hoping to promote the station now that it will return to the air.

She said she was particularly pleased by the announcement because, "it shows that a few people getting together do have a chance to be heard."

Reconstruction of street will soon commence

Reconstruction of Prince Street in Minden village is scheduled to begin in the near future.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council learned last week that a make-work project subsidized 65 per cent by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications would allow the whole street to be rebuilt.

The municipality hopes the road construction will be completed in August.

Market is slow

Cottages sell but houses don't

The market for vacation real estate is strong in Haliburton County but the market for residential property is not so healthy according to Lynn Craigmyle of Bowes and Cocks Realtors.

A nation-wide survey of housing prices released by Canada Permanent late last month indicated a generally slow trend in the increase of prices on the real estate market. Of 37 localities surveyed in Ontario, 15 recorded no change in prices from February of this year.

Nine Ontario communities had significant increases in the costs of residential property while 13 recorded downward trends.

In some Ontario communities the price of a three bedroom bungalow fell by as much as $7,000 between February and June.

Cities nearby Haliburton, such as Orillia and Peterborough, recorded no change in the costs of houses in the three categories surveyed by the Permanent.

Craigmyle said the housing market in Haliburton was very slow this year. A large number of properties are coming on to the market but few are selling. Although prices are "pretty stable, house prices may be off," Craigmyle said. Craigmyle added that it was difficult to give the average price of a home in Haliburton.

However, Craigmyle said cottage properties were selling and "vacant acreages are selling quite well."

Craigmyle said one reason for the difference in the two markets was the difference in the numbers of people interested in buying. "It's an entirely different product,"

Craigmyle said.

Cottage properties draw on a potential market of two to three million people who live and work in the area from Hamilton to Belleville. The housing market depends on the native population of this area and those people who may want to relocate here.

"Houses mean a commitment to the community on a year round basis," Craigmyle said.

Earlier in the year lower priced cottage properties were selling well according to Craigmyle. In June activity started to develop in the higher priced units.

Craigmyle characterized the present situation as an excellent time to buy but a poor time to sell a house.

Craigmyle feels the recent federal budget may have some positive effect on the housing situation in Haliburton. "It's going to just push first time home buyers where they wouldn't have bought before," Craigmyle said.

A proposal in the budget will allow investors to be taxed only on the difference between the inflation rate and the mortgage rate they are charging. If the inflation rate is 12 per cent and mortgage money is loaned at 18 per cent an investor would only be liable for tax on the six per cent "real interest" his investment earns.

This proposal may attract much needed funds into the housing-mortgage area and have a beneficial effect on the housing industry, according to experts.

In addition to the mortgage interest proposal the budget will offer $3,000

School of fine arts opens for 15th year

The Haliburton School of Fine Arts, the largest art summer school in Ontario, is educating students for the fifteenth consecutive year.

This week marks the opening of the school which will run until August 6. Weekly courses in painting, weaving, drawing, jewellery, leather, windsurfing, sailing and hosts of other artistic endeavors will be taught at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School under the auspices of the Sir Sandford Fleming College Northern Campus staff.

Barb Bolin, coordinator of the college's programs, is satisfied with the fact that Haliburton's summer school is flourishing while other arts schools have dropped drastically in enrolment this summer. The success of the school is based largely on the quality instructors the college employs and the vacation possibilities that the Highlands offer, Bolin said Monday.

Students, many of whom come from the metropolitan areas, are enticed to the school to learn and to take advantage of their holidays at the same time.

Shiela Mulherin, a veteran student at the college, bought a cottage in the area last year and now takes five weeks vacation in the area. During that time she enrolls in five different courses offered by the college. "It's a holiday and you're learning

Briefly ...

Three receive injuries

The staff of the Minden OPP detachment investigated many occurrences during the past week but most were routine investigations involving stolen bicycles, noisy parties and minor accidents.

Of the 134 general occurrences police investigated 16 thefts, 17 liquor infractions, eight break and enters, seven compassionate messages, six noise complaints and five impaired drivers.

Three people received minor injuries in nine motor vehicle accidents and one accident attended by the staff was non-reportable.

Car destroyed

A Newmarket man was uninjured but his car was destroyed when it rolled over along Highway 35 just one kilometer north of the Victoria-Haliburton County line, early last Tuesday morning.

Mark Denny, 20, was northbound when his 1978 Honda car, entered the east ditch and struck a culvert. The car rolled over.

Denny was charged with careless driving.

TV stolen

A 14 inch Magnavox colour television has been reported missing from a Haliburton village business.

Lon Duncombe, manager of Haliburton Radio Shack store, reported the disappearance last Wednesday.

Vandals steal shrubs

Vandals took advantage of the holiday weekend to rip out shrubs and flowers in both Minden and Haliburton villages.

Many of the plants planted by volunteer gardeners along the Gull River in Minden were pulled from the north bank. No damage has been estimated.

In Haliburton, a cedar tree, valued at $30, was dug up and removed from the flower bed in front of the Bank of Montreal, last Friday.

Uniforms on display

As part of OPP appreciation week, planned by the Minden Business Improvement Area, the OPP display trailer which displays various uniforms worn by police personnel will visit the community.

The trailer will be parked next to the Bank of Commerce, Friday, Saturday and Sunday and will be open to visitors during normal business hours.

something," she said.

Mulherin first enrolled at the college for two consecutive week-long courses and finished by attending five in the following weeks. Now she enrolls for five select courses each summer.

"I just want to get away by myself and do something interesting," she explained.

While Mulherin is a little out of the norm by attending five courses, some students enrol in three programs and many participate in two.

But the area not only helps to attract the students, it attracts the teachers as well. "Haliburton is Haliburton. It makes it easy to attract teachers," Bolin said.

Teachers are selected many times from referrals made by other craft teachers who participate in the school, Bolin explained. She suggested there is an "old boys system" in the art teachers' world where artists know those among them who are excellent artists and competent teachers as well.

The college tries to rotate teaching staff every three years if possible, attracting new talent to teach the many students who return year after year. Teachers are not restricted by confining curriculum to college outlines but are left to decide which techniques and ideas they would like to teach.

"We look for the person and they tell us what they're going to teach," Bolin explained.

Judith Tinkl is one of the few teachers who has been taught at the college for the past 12 years. But her courses have ranged from quilted hangings and clothing to children's art.

"It's just so nice up here that we have to make up an excuse to come," she laughs. Tinkl and her family also spend their holidays in the county.

This year, the college is offering 53 courses for both adults and children and enrolment is expected to reach 600. Last summer 563 students (not including children) attended the summer courses.

One of the reasons for the school's success this year, according to Bolin, is the staff revamped its mailing list. Because of the high cost of mailing, the college contacted all craft organizations in Ontario to obtain their updated lists and also deleted any alumni students who had not attended in the past three years. "You just can't send out 7,000 brochures."

Most of the students who attend the school are serious hobbyists and often enrol in progressive courses where they can improve their craft.

Operating the summer school has given Bolin a chance to notice the artistic trends that change on a constant basis. "There are trends in Ontario, the only problem is that nobody knows what they are," she shrugs.

This year, for instance, painting and pottery courses have heavy enrolments. For the past two years there has been poor response to pottery and this season, Bolin estimates she could fill another three classes with applicants.

There are some courses the college cannot offer usually because of necessary, highly-priced equipments. Glass blowing, darkroom techniques and some textile courses are out of the question.

While the summer school is not visible in the day-to-day life of the community, it brings in many dollars that would not necessarily come to this area.

Over 90 people a week attend the courses, many bringing their families with them for a vacation. And they do not only stay in their lodgings to study, many are interested in the events of the community, where to eat and what film is playing at the theatre.

Except for eight cottages which the college owns, most of the students stay at local accommodations.

"It means a lot of money coming into this community," Bolin admits.

Kanawa museum may stay in Haliburton director says

An interim report has been released by consultants considering the fate on the Kanawa International Museum.

According to the museum's founder and director Kirk Wipper, the report is not clear in its implications for the present site of the museum.

Wipper, in an interview with The Echo, said the report did include a recommendation to move a major part of the collection to Trent University in Peterborough. He cautioned that people in Haliburton County should not think that they have no chance of keeping the museum here.

"People see this as a fait accompli," Wipper said. "The communities should keep up the battle, so to speak, if they are interested."

When asked if he thought there was a good chance the museum would remain at its present location Wipper said "As far as I am concerned, yes."

The consultants used five criteria in developing their recommendations. They considered the canoeing potential of the areas competing for the museum, the tourist characteristics, the potential for research and interpretive programmes, the amount of community support, and the availability of a site for the museum that would allow for development.

Wipper said that Haliburton County had a number of factors in its favour as a possible site. He cited the enthusiasm of the area communities and pointed out that the present location was a good spot from the point of restoration and display.

Wipper also said it would be a formidable undertaking to try and relocate the collection. At present the museum houses more than 700 canoes plus many other artifacts, models and a large collection of art.

"I urge the people of Haliburton County not to pursue this as a local project only," Wipper said. "Don't approach it as Minden versus Haliburton village." Wipper said that any such local rivalry would tend to reduce the attractiveness of the county as a whole as the site of the Kanawa collection.

"The big thing is to keep it in the county," Wipper said. "Haliburton County needs a major attraction. It would be part of the economy."

"I will have a lot to say about the final arrangements," Wipper said. He indicated that it may be possible to divide the collection up, keeping the major part of the museum in one location and having subsidiary displays elsewhere.

"If people are interested they should carry on the push," Wipper said. "There is a feeling it is all over. It's not. Nothing is ever all over."

Wipper said he expects the consultants to make their final recommendation in the autumn.

Council had no objections to an application for a minor variance made by Wm. F. Sheffield to construct an addition to his cottage on Lot 16, Conc. 2, Township of Minden.

Doug Pritchard was appointed to the Minden museum committee for the balance of his term of office, by council.

Council had no objections to J.C. Hindle's application for a minor variance to construct an enclosed porch and a car port.

Council accepted the resignation of Larry Cummins from the Municipal Non-Profit Housing Corporation Committee due to personal business commitments interfering with the regular meeting dates of the committee. Lyle McKnight was appointed in his place.

A citizen was present and requested that the residents of McLeod and McPherson Streets be notified of the meeting when Council discusses the proposed extension of McLeod St. to County Road 2.

Council authorized five new streetlights to be installed at various locations on the Bobcaygeon Road and Orde Street.

Phenomenon of acid rain explained to Frost visitors

Summer programs for visitors begin

The phenomenon of acid rain can be understood by anyone especially if they visit the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre.

Once again, this year, the Frost Visitor's Centre offers two-hour programmes designed to inform casual visitors about their environment and how it can be managed, controlled or polluted.

The programmes, which began last week, are scheduled every Wednesday and Thursday at 1:00 p.m. They last approximately two hours.

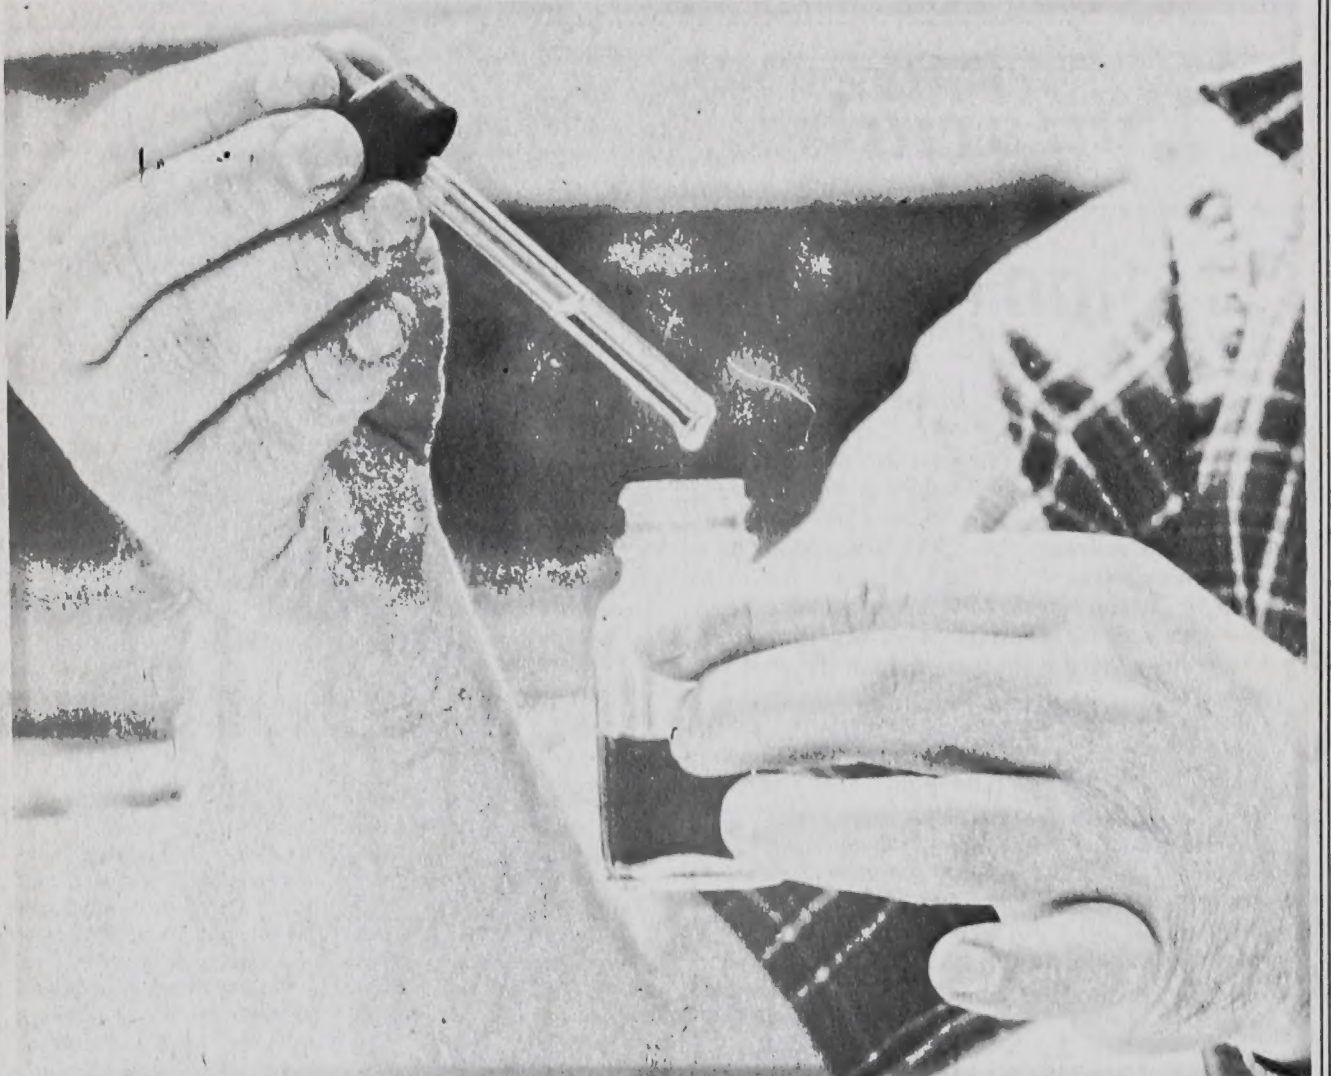

Acid Rain, the topic of Thursday's programme, featured a documentary filmed in the Haliburton Muskoka area. After the film and an explanation of acid precipitation and its effects on the environment, visitors tested several samples of lake water.

pH level tested

Tests of the pH level of the water and its capacity to buffer the effects of acid precipitation made the realities of acid rain clearer to the visitors.

A schedule of this summer's programmes can be obtained at the Frost Centre on highway 35 or at many businesses in Haliburton County.

Hour-long tours of the natural resources facility are conducted daily, Wednesday through Sunday, at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Station returns

CFMX-FM will return to the airwaves sometime later this summer.

The hundreds of people who listened faithfully to the station's broadcasts, who felt that its dulcet tones were the single oasis in a desert of musical drivel, will welcome the CRTC's decision as a welcome relief.

To the friends of CFMX the reissued licence may seem the sign of a great victory. But often within the fruits of victory are hidden the seeds of defeat.

The CRTC may have granted the classical music station a brief respite but hard financial realities may yet deprive the public of the station.

Although many people were vocal in CFMX's support when its licence was revoked, will sufficient numbers of people tune in to the station now to make it a financial success?

Unfortunately CFMX operated on shaky ground even before the September 1981 decision. According to the station's "parent" organization CHUC the station was often operated at a loss.

It may be asking a little too much for a station which was financially troubled to survive now, in even more financially unsure times, after being off the air for ten months.

Whatever the future may hold for the Cobourg radio station congratulations are due to it, and its many friends.

Both the station and the people who listened to it fought an excellent campaign. Against the expectations of many they reversed the council of the mighty and restored their station to the air.

People both in Haliburton county and elsewhere can be glad that the strains of Schubert may still be heard in the land.

Never all over

There is a fatalistic tendency among many people to accept the opinions of "experts" and "consultants" without demur.

Our ancestors were accustomed to consult oracles in order to determine the course of the future. Many of the pronouncements of these mouthpieces of the gods have been preserved and add a colourful footnote to history.

What is most surprising about them is not that the oracles were often correct in their predictions but that the ancients did so little to avoid the dire fates the oracles announced.

It often seems that, having heard the voice of doom, they surrendered totally, losing both the will and the ability to change their destinies.

Today, in Haliburton County, it is possible to find the same attitude of resignation, the same fatalistic acceptance of doom.

Many people were upset about the possible relocation of the Kanawa canoe museum outside the Haliburton Highlands. They had several proposals dealing with the museum and how it might be made more accessible.

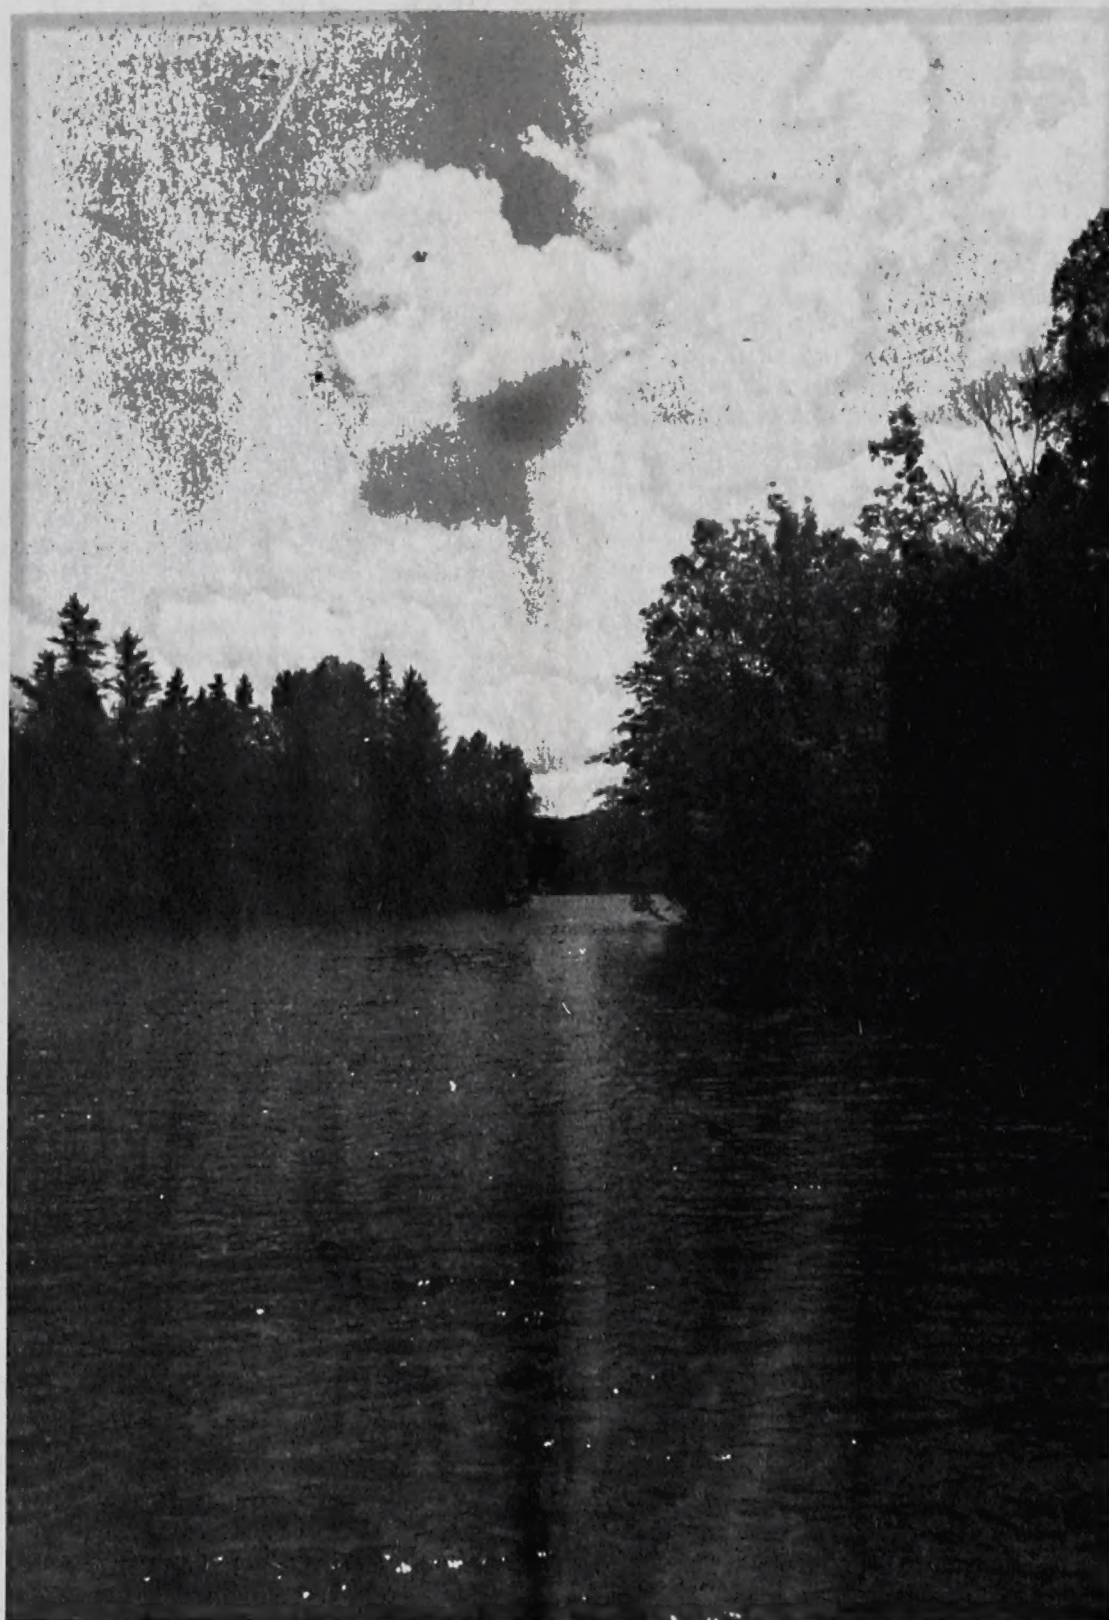

But the consultants hired by the government released an interim report which suggested the museum be moved to Peterborough and many of these people at once consider the relocation a dead issue.

If people in Haliburton really have a desire to maintain this kind of tourist attraction they will agree with Kirk Wipper's sentiment that "It is never all over."

To give up lobbying for a facility just because a group of people, who do not have the authority to make any decision, tentatively suggest a different alternative is slightly ridiculous.

The people who want to preserve this Haliburton attraction should stop feeling resigned and, using the same criteria as the consultants, analyze the strengths of the county as a location.

There is no way the county will gain anything if its citizens are willing to surrender half way through a fight.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

It was with great interest that I read your account of the unsuccessful bid by the owners of the Sky Slider to utilize the baseball diamond behind the municipal building as a proposed ski area. It is my personal opinion that the council's decision may have been somewhat shortsighted.

Haliburton is, like it or not, largely dependant on tourist dollars. As a year round resort you lack but one thing and that is a major downhill skiing resort. A quick check with a surveyor will tell you that both faces of the hill from Skyline Park offer excellent vertical drops for skiing. Certainly as much as one would find in the Barrie area.

Snow conditions are as good as anywhere in the province. In fact 12 years ago I made preliminary enquiries as to the feasibility of a ski resort in the area but lacked the capital (and the nerve) to exploit it. However, the preliminary surveys were very encouraging.

Now that the owners of the Sky Slider have demonstrated tangibly their commitment to improving tourist recreational facilities in the town they should be encouraged to carry their project one step further.

To be sure the arena and curling rink were there first and deserve to have their parking protected but is there no room for compromise? Perhaps a parking area down by the tennis courts with a shuttlebus service running every 15 minutes on the weekends? I'm sure this could be accomplished.

The other consideration is what will happen to Sir Sams. I would venture to say that the presence of not one but two resorts in the area would make it more attractive to many skiers and the increased traffic would benefit both, not to mention the local economy.

So what now? I say let's look at this project again, more carefully. Maybe there's something in it for all of us.

Dr. P. Markle,
Spruce Lake.

To the Editor:

The village of Haliburton has done it again! While millions of Canadians across this country celebrated Canada's 115 birthday with the encouragement of their elected officials, the village of Haliburton chose to ignore this milestone in our heritage. It passed the buck to the smaller community of West Guilford to celebrate.

In a letter to this writer after last year's "non-event", Wayne Wood, the clerk of Dysart et al stated that since West Guilford was having something, the council felt this would do.

That's like saying that since the area known as Agincourt in Scarborough was planning something then no one else in the vast Metropolitan Toronto area need bother!

What is it? Has council not shed its victorian age cloak? This seems to be the case as I look back on this past 24th of May's fireworks at Head Lake Park. The council provided a nice fireworks display that was seen and enjoyed by hundreds and hundreds - and their children too, which I'm led to understand cost $2,000. of taxpayers money yet nothing was done for Canada's birthday, July 1st.

Last year there wasn't even a flag flying over the municipal building. This year there is! Last year the only flags evident in the downtown core were flying in front of Don Banks' fruit market, Kennedy's, and Emmerson Lumber. This year Don Banks had his flag in front of his market and had flagged his "general store" as well. Kennedy's was missing. Emmerson Lumber had their roof ones flying in the breeze. Stedmans had an entire window full, but I suspect that this was a commercial incident rather than an exhibition of pride.

Last year there were no festoons on Highland street this year council has decorated with plastic flowers in plastic flowerpots!

In this election year are more changes needed to council to provide an administration keyed to the 80's? When the Highlands rely so much on tourist dollars more "hype" is needed to keep them coming!

The victorian age image still abounds and council leans continually on the business community to promote Haliburton. "PineStone Inn" and "Wig-a-Mog" with their radio advertising in metropolitan areas and Sky Slider with its local TV and radio advertising, all the tourist resorts tell everyone that important word - Haliburton.

Council has relied on the Royal Canadian Legion and the Rotary Club too long to provide the festivals for both the area and the tourists.

If it's manpower that's required there's an untapped supply just waiting to be asked to help in the cottage community.

I know several cottagers who, I believe would add their expertise to any festivities or festivals if encouraged. Some are "summer" cottagers and others, like myself, are up here most weekends as well as vacations.

I have observed the "focal point" of the area, the Head Lake Park bandshell sitting dark and unused, particularly the evening of July 1.

It could serve as the site of many Canada Day events. All it takes is some movement from Council, a small starting committee soon, a councillor for liason and a $200-$300 starting budget.

Next July 1, let's not just have a lonely Canadian flag flying on its staff above a darkened municipal building!

It's about time that the businessmen, town council and citizens of the village of Haliburton stopped for a moment to realize that we who are fortunate enough to live in Canada are living in one of the best countries in the world.

We certainly realize that everyone in Canada is not in love with the present federal government and in a great many cases people are of the opinion that this great country of ours, with its natural resources is being badly mismanaged. This could be true but we live in a democracy and the voters will have the opportunity to keep the present government or change it at the next election.

I am like the rest of you I do not like the shape that the economy is in, I would like to see full employment, lower interest rates and a halt to inflation. At the present time the dark clouds seem to be overhead and we hope that it won't be too much longer before we start seeing a ray of sunshine.

Each and every day we are faced with hearing the same old story of gloom and doom on the radio, television and in the daily newspapers. Many of use are also to blame for this situation as we go around spreading this gloom and doom every day.

We stop once in awhile and realize that there is another side to the coin. Let's start to add up all the wonderful things in Canada that we should be thankful for.

Here are just a few: freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of war, the freedom that we have to live in a democracy where we have the right to vote on certain questions and to choose the government.

When one stops to consider all the things that we have to be thankful for how then can we overlook the fact that when Canada celebrated its' 115th birthday on Thursday, as far as the village of Haliburton was concerned, it was just another day.

It's hard to imagine that only one Canadian flag was flying on this day at the main street and that was in front of Don Bank's fruit market. The only other Canadian flag in view was the one flying over the post office.

This day of days, known as Canada's birthday, should have been celebrated with entertainment at the new band shell at Head Lake park during the day and with a fantastic fireworks display in the evening. How nice it would have been to have seen a Canadian flag flying in the breeze over each and every business place in the village.

Our hats are off to the people of West Guilford for flying the flags and celebrating Canada Day with special events, but we say shame on the council and businessmen of Haliburton for ignoring this most important day of the year, Canada's birthday. Let's hope that this doesn't happen again.

Probably the first and only person ever to be made an honorary member of the Legion at the age of 100 was the way MP Bill Domm put it recently at the birthday celebrations for John Bannon when Havelock Belmont Legion, Branch 389, honoured him on the occasion of his one hundredth birthday. Bannon, who has been a fraternal member of the Legion for 30 years, is related to the Bannon family residing in the village of Haliburton. In days gone by Mr. Bannon worked at the Standard Chemical plant in Donald for 10 years and later moved to Haliburton where he was employed at Bailey's mill.

In the early days of the Legion at Havelock he brought wood on a sleigh to the hall many a night to heat the building for the bingo games. As well, he has walked each day to the Legion to enjoy a glass of beer and a visit every day for many years now, and still does so.

Following the awards presentations and ceremony there was a reception. Those present were Bannon's daughter Ruby Blakely and her daughter Audrey Simmons of Peterborough, a niece Bonnie Green and her husband Jack, Havelock. Mrs. Green's mother Pearl (Mrs. Hector) Bannon, nephew Bob Bannon and wife Audrey from Haliburton, nephew Art Bannon and Ivy of Marmora, niece Katie Whitney and husband Gerald, daughter Marla Berry of Cobocok.

Word has just reached us that the members of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church in Haliburton are having the official opening and blessing of their new church on Sunday, July 18.

This month two members of the Scarborough Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen Fellowship in Canada, Ron Myatt and Sid Brazier, will be sharing their testimonies when the local group hold their monthly dinner meeting at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall on Friday, July 16 at 7:00 p.m.

Ron Myatt is a former Jehovah's Witness, and was a heavy gambler. In the 1977 provincial election he was a candidate for the Liberal party. Sid Brazier is blind and a successful businessman as owner of Grannies and former owner of Margaret's Donuts.

Lloyd and Jean MacDuff of Wilberforce celebrated their fortieth anniversary on June 17. They were given a surprise party at their home by their family and presented with a nice anniversary cake, a silver picture plaque and anniversary glasses.

Among other guests all their children were at home for the happy occasion. Joan, Chuck, Dwain, Lisa and Darren Lindsay of Eganville, Darryl of Bowmanville, Bill, Linda, Marsha and Dwight Bowers, Ray, Lorraine, ReNee and Kenton Casey, Rodney, Geraldine, Jason and Julie Bowen and Lyle all of Wilberforce.

Our thanks go out this week to Mrs. V. Chalmers of Burnt River, Ontario for giving us permission to use this photo of Haliburton village as it looked in 1920. Looking at this picture is like a stroll down memory lane and will bring back many memories to many of our readers. There has been many changes since that time and if you had a recent photo of the village as it looks today you would know what we mean.

Guild's decision is unpalatable

Serendipity

by SUE COOPER

In a suspicious move, the board of directors of the Guild of Fine Arts has dismissed Lucinda St. Pierre, curator of the Rails' End Gallery.

The firing of St. Pierre last Tuesday is questionable because the board had refused to comment, on the basis of legal advice, the board's actual mandate ended on May 31 and the board of education, which pays 25 per cent of the former curator's salary, was not consulted on the dismissal action.

More than the pressure tactics used by the board to demand St. Pierre's resignation (which she refused to do) make the situation less than palatable.

St. Pierre was the scapegoat in a no-win situation.

When the guild made the move to hire a full-time curator, last year, it became a professional gallery that must operate within the ethics of the artistic world. During her tenure, St. Pierre opened the doors of the gallery to the public. The former train station became accessible to all the members of the public, not just the guild.

By firing St. Pierre, the guild has not only split the ranks of its members into many factions, it has ignored the needs of the community which the gallery serves.

The gallery and guild receive grants from municipal and provincial governments and donations of thousands of dollars have been pledged by concerned citizens of the area. The guild's acceptance of these funds gave it an obligation to the community to provide a centre where many different art forms can be enjoyed on a continual basis.

The board has, in fact, stated that it is more concerned with promotion and sale of the work by many local hobbyists (few who belong to the guild are full-time professionals) than providing the community with the opportunity to view skillfully designed art works by many citizens around the world. The board has proven it is incapable of operating a professional gallery.

Now that the board has fired its curator at the busiest time of the year, it has left the mess to be untangled by its members at an annual general meeting, July 19.

Ruth Gorrie, president of the guild, said the membership will be asked to review the last year of operation under a full-time paid curator and if it wishes to continue in the same direction. The question should be does the guild want the station gallery to be a small town gift shop when local

Celebrating Canada's birthday

John Eakins MPP

As we celebrated Canada's birthday last week, we were all concerned about the future of our country, which is going through some very difficult days.

Always in the past, when we have undergone periods of storm and trouble, we have been sustained by our national pride, and our determination to uphold the proud traditions of our heritage. Today, more than ever before perhaps, our strength is derived from the very diversity of the people who make up this nation, Canada.

Most Canadians have a dream about this great country of ours. There have been times when it seemed we have come a long way toward developing a society which encompassed understanding and generosity, as well as respect for the rights of the individual.

Sometimes it even seemed possible that we, as a nation, could fulfil our own unique destiny, and show the world the way to devise a national community in which people of diverse origins could live, love and work together, lighting the way to the achievement of an international community with similar understanding.

Now we are beset by problems on every side -

Report from Parliament

by Bill Scott, MP

Allan MacEachen has now tabled his long-awaited, economic statement in the form of a budget. He, at last, realized a budget was necessary after months of economic hardship imposed by the November '81 budget, and constant requests by the opposition in the Commons and by leaders in every field of the Canadian economy.

What did the budget do for Canadians?

Its affect is akin to minor cosmetic surgery. On the one hand it gave a little temporary relief to a few of us with grants and job creation programs and with the other hand it took more money out of the pocket of every person by way of increased income taxes and cutting the cost of living supplements awarded to salaries, pensions and Old Age security payments.

If you are lucky enough to be able to afford to buy a house at today's interest rates, the new budget will provide you with a $3,000 grant if you craftspeople can corner the valuable tourist dollars, or does it want a professional gallery?

The local craftspeople's needs are more than satisfied through the Guild Room at the gallery and at the summer and Christmas sales. It appears the members cannot produce enough artforms which interest the public presently as some of the crafts displayed have been shown (and obviously not sold) at many of the shows.

At the general meeting the guild members should ask themselves if they wish to remain mediocre hobbyists or if they wish to aspire to greater artistic heights. Do they wish to compare their ideas and techniques with those of professional artists or do they wish to be preserved in plastic bubbles, caught in time and technique?

Pressure has been and surely will continue to be, brought to bear on the membership. It should demand that its rights to learn and improve as well as the needs of the community be recognized.

The membership should demand that St. Pierre be reinstated to her former position. A move that will gain little support from the outgoing board of directors.

Failing the reappointment of St. Pierre, the membership should force the new board of directors to hire another curator who will continue to promote the station as a professional gallery.

Further, the guild should suggest that none of the board members who were involved in the firing of St. Pierre be on the curator selection committee. They have already proven that the best interests of the gallery and the public are not foremost in their minds.

Woodies split two games

Team defeated Kennedy 7-5, but lost to Curry's 7-4

Haliburton Lumber won a game and lost a game in recent men's softball action. The mighty Lumbermen beat Kennedy Surplus 7-5 in action on June 29 but went down to a 7-4 defeat at the hands of Curry Motors two days later.

In the Lumberman-Kennedy game the Woodies took three runs in the bottom of the first inning to secure an early lead.

Bob Johnston was first at bat for the Lumbermen. He went to first on balls. Shortstop Jim Winn was the next at bat. He took his bases on an error by Kennedy catcher Dwight Sisson.

Lee Bull also got to first on balls. Johnston, Winn and Bull completed runs for the Lumbermen.

In the top of the second and third innings the Kennedy nine did not manage to complete any runs. The Woody half of the second was runless also.

In the bottom of the third the Lumbermen picked up another run when Bull walked to first and stole a base before being brought home by Kevin Newell.

In the top of the fourth Kennedy's Jerry Walker, Neil Sisson and Roy Burke were all tagged out on their way to first.

The Woodies picked up two more runs in the bottom of the inning when Johnston hit a double and stole a base before Winn got on deck with a walk. Winn also stole a base and was brought across the plate by Bull.

The fifth inning saw the Kennedy squad come on strong with runs by Dwayne Lewis, Jeff Carpenter, Greg Bishop and Dwight Sisson.

The inning had not started well for the Kennedy nine. Brian Mulholland was first at bat but was tagged on his way to first. Bernie Upton took the next trip to the plate but struck out.

Lewis got to first base on balls and stole one before Carpenter joined him on deck with a walk. Bishop also walked loading the bases.

Dwight Sisson hit for two RBIs and was followed to the plate by Jerry Walker who hit for two RBIs also. The Kennedy squad was stopped at that point when Jim Ketch struck out to change the half.

Rob Dennys took the single run for the Lumbermen in the fifth inning. The sixth was scoreless for Kennedy and Haliburton Lumber.

In the seventh Kennedy's Dwight Sisson hit for a base and stole one before being brought home by Walker. However the Kennedy nine were unable to make any other runs in the seventh and Haliburton Lumber took the game.

In the July 1 game Curry Motors beat the Lumbermen. The first two innings were scoreless for both teams but in the top of the third the Lumbermen got on the scoreboard when Johnston took a walk to first and Winn hit a grounder for a base.

Bernie Nicholls was next at the plate and his sacrifice fly deep to center field allowed Johnston to complete the circuit.

Motormen and Beachli's battle to softball victory

Curry Motors and Beachli Construction both battled to victory in men's softball action last week.

The Motormen downed the Legion 7-6 on June 29 in a back and forth contest.

The Legion got on the scoreboard early in the game with runs from Scott LaRue and Gary McKnight. In the Curry Motors' half Pete Scheffee inched his way to third but could not get a team mate to bring him across the plate.

Both teams went scoreless

Bull was next up to bat and repeated Nicholls' performance to bring Winn home.

In the bottom of the third Motorman Mike Rae walked to first. Chris Cowen's two base hit brought Rae around

In the second and the Legion saw no action in the top of the third.

In the bottom of the third Andy Salvatori hit a solid three base drive for the Motormen and was brought home by Kevin O'Hara to get his team on the scoreboard.

Sid Cooper hit a single in the Legion half of the fourth. He managed to sneak around the diamond on Tony Salvatori's single to put the Legion ahead by two runs.

Guilford reigns supreme

Last Wednesday night saw the West Guilford boys come into town to play the Haliburton Bantam team. It was the second game between these two teams.

Haliburton never really got on track and went down to a 20-4 defeat.

The team's thanks go to Sue Peel and Tanya Rosen-

This week the Bantam team travels to West Guilford, leaving Haliburton at 6:15 p.m.

Junior C league split into geographical divisions

The Haliburton Huskies Junior C hockey team will face less travel time and possibly better competition this winter now that its league has been expanded and divided into geographic sections.

According to Brian Black, who attended a league meeting Monday night, the Georgian Bay Junior C League will be split into a northern and southern divisions this season. Competing in the northern division with Haliburton will be Huntsville, Gravenhurst, Parry Sound, and Bracebridge.

In the southern division, two new teams, Stainer and Angus have joined the league. Also competing in the southern class are Penetang, Midland and Oro.

Teams will play three games at home and three games away with each team in their division and one game at home and one game away with all teams in the other division.

Each team will play 34 games in the regular season, eight game less than last year.

The season begins October 3 and playoffs are scheduled to begin at the end of January. Two best of seven matches will decide the top teams in each division and one best of seven match will find the top contender in the league.

A league winner must be decided by March 10.

Badges to be awarded

Youngsters in the Haliburton area now have the opportunity to earn achievement badges for their performance in soccer games, Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

Jim Milne, coordinator of the programme, said skill badges from the Canadian Soccer Association will be presented to children who try to better their soccer skills. Included in the skill cat-

Happy Gang News

The carillon was not played on Sunday, June 27.

Petro-Canada is another white elephant purchased by order-in-council to provide an idyllic haven for loyal liberal part hacks. The government say we own it but did you get a financial report? Of course not, the government have that wrapped up as top secret. If that intolerable debt burden was removed by the budget they may rate our vote at the next election.

It is over two weeks since we spied a hummingbird at the feeder just outside the window. Friendly advice tells us that these creatures prefer the nectar from the wild flowers and with the frequent heavy rains the wild flowers are producing plenty.

June Devolin conducted the last Bible study of this season Tuesday morning. We studied Christ in those days between the resurrection and His ascension, a period in which it is not clear if He was in the spirit of in the flesh. His mannerism gave Him away. On behalf of the Happy Gang so long June until the autumn session begins.

In the afternoon we had bingo again, with Betty Wise and Helen Archer the voluntary helpers, and Allan Macklin doing the calling. Huge pieces of watermelon were among the prizes. Doesn't that make your mouth water.

The poppy flowers are still as pretty as ever and are coming into bloom one after another. Now the impatiens are showing their delicate colouring and they are a goodly number. The patio boxes with the alyssum and marigolds are getting nicer every day. Soon the balsam the impatiens and the nasturtiums will dominate. The many dahlia bulbs we planted alternating with spirea shrubs along the two wings are showing very nicely and

Framing program extended by generosity

The framing program, which is an extension of the scholarship program, established to encourage young artists, is now in full swing throughout the Highlands. Various people have donated money to purchase frames for paintings by children attending Haliburton Highlands public schools.

The paintings are now ready for public viewing. Here is a list of the young artists and where their paintings are being displayed:

Darcy Connaghan of Victoria St. Public School at Dawson, Cox, Dart, Brian White of Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School at the Haliburton Family Medical Centre, Cathy Ohlmann of Dorset Public School at the Hal-Warkentin of Dorset Public School at the Minden Library, Tammy Lee of Wilberforce Public School at the Haliburton Post Office, Jamie Billings of Gooderham Public School at Dr. Postlethwaite's office.

The young artists' summer program will commence on

are being staked to avoid traffic damage.

Wednesday was our scheduled visit to Locarno-on-the-Lake (Kashagawigamog) to dine with other senior citizens of Haliburton County living within a reasonable distance. Our transportation depends entirely on those citizens that are going and who will in addition call at Extencicare to pick up a car load of us who could not afford to go otherwise. These owner-drivers help make life more pleasant for the elderly and in many cases the handicapped. The Happy Gang feel that we cannot thank them enough.

Les (president) and Gwen Hughes took Harold McKelvey and Norman Titus; Frank and Lillian Clarke took Jack Pollard and Watson Anderson; Marion Currie took John Sissons, Alice Hartle and Hazel Parish; and Ivy Shaw took Beryl Morrow and Kay Walker; Mary Hannah took Heidi Prior (volunteer helper) and Peggy Henderson.

It was a lovely meal of fried chicken, boiled carrots, string beans and pickle. Lots of coffee or tea finishing with that favourite dessert of delicious apple pie and vanilla ice cream.

Road work was being done on Highway 121 but what a treat is in store and even taking 5 minutes off the travel time between the twin towns of Haliburton County, - Minden and Haliburton. All the summer homes we see as the road takes us by are neatly grassed and well groomed, but the bush has much fire kindling debris that should be removed. White clover is a good ground cover to landscape highways or roads and incidentally provides good bee pasture for any erstwhile beekeepers. It looks so much nicer than the all sorts weeds that seem to grow otherwise. Friday morning the Rev. John James, pastor of the Haliburton United Church, brought a christian friend from New Brunswick one Willard Duplessis who helped in the devotional period. Jan Shipley was the pianist. The service revolved around the choice Christian statement of fact "Jesus loves me" "The bible says so". There was the after service snack of ice cold date square, tea or coffee. It was delicious.

In the afternoon were three movies with Ray Smith as projectionist, by the way he's getting pretty good at it. The first "And God Created Summer" filmed in the two metropolitan regions of Quebec province, Montreal and Quebec city, showing the happy-go-lucky care free gaiety of our French Canadians in summer. The second was about Atlin a still active placer gold mining town in British Columbia tucked up in the extreme north west corner, a stone's throw from Alaska boundary. The third was "The Big Country" about the British Columbia rodeo circuit that makes small boys grow big.

the ages of 6 and 13 to participate in the program.

The program will be held in Head Lake Park near the Rails' End Gallery and is sponsored by the Ministry of Employment and Immigration.

Any children interested in forming a sing-song group with guitar or even learning how to play guitar or piano should contact Wendy at the Rails' End Gallery.

The Saturday afternoon strawberry festival turned out to be splendid. To pick the berries there were: Jane Rosenberg, Jean Cummings, Linda Contarczyk, Norman Titus, Sheila Elston and Ivy Shaw and that required getting started at 7:30 a.m.

To serve them as the highlight of the dinner required, in a sort of batting order, the efforts of Les Hughes, as gate keeper, Kim Patrick, helpers' helper, Gwen Hughes in the kitchen, as was Diane Hutchings, Cindy Ackley, with salads, arranging the lawn furniture were Ray Smith, Norman Titus (he deserves a second mention) John Sissons and Harold McKelvey.

It was a delicious meal the dessert was of course a dish of freshly picked strawberries smothered in lovely thick cream and, best of all, the weather was perfect.

The Happy Gang is grateful to all who attended and to all who helped.

Senior League

by Bert Harrison

We were invited to the home of Stanley Blears, a place we hadn't been for years. We had a lovely dinner, which was pot-luck, of good food, but not any duck.

After we had eaten, and were all satisfied, our charming hostess stood up and said "We have a couple sitting right here who have been married for sixty-four years". When she called for a speech by the groom, I wished I could get out of the room. We were presented with a lovely flower, and card by members of the auxiliary.

We were sorry to miss the service in the chapel Sunday night. It was taken by the Thompsons and the Parkers. We are glad to hear Peter Ferrey will soon be back.

Tuesday morning Rev. Stan Rukin of the Haliburton Full Gospel Lighthouse came down and took the service, but didn't bring his spouse.

Fred Ballard came to play the hymns as he has done so many times before.

Tuesday night Everett Ferrey and Vera Lyn came up to entertain us once again, and said Peter would soon be back to lend a helping hand. By the way, we thought if Ken Fielding didn't soon get some help, we would have to raise his pay.

Wednesday noon, we had a barbeque outside our back door. The cooks barbequed hamburgs, and hot dogs galore. We had ice cream, and soft drinks of many kinds. The wind was rather cool, but we really didn't mind.

The ladies are in the craft room making lovely dolls, also knitting afghans, and nice knitted shawls.

We have a new waitress whose name is Michelle. She seems to be getting along very well.

The ladies from the Kin-mount parish brought in a lovely lunch on Canada Day. Also a beautiful birthday cake in the shape of a boat. We thought this was a real nice thing to do, and we say a big "Thank you", to you.

Some members of the Kinsman Club, I didn't get their names, came up here Thursday night, and put on the bingo games.

It was sing-song time again this Friday afternoon. Grace Coburn came along with no one to play the tunes. Then Ray Jenkins came along to play. He played some grand old songs, and we sang them with a will, such as "Billy Boy" and "Mocking Bird Hill".

A woman stood up in divorce court, and said she did not want alimony. "All I want" she said, "is for my husband to leave me as he found me". "And how was that?" asked the judge. "I was a widow".

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

A puppet show is coming to town. It will be held at the Kinmount Public Library, on July 22, at 1:30 p.m. There will be two plays: "Why the Bear has a stumpy tail" and "The plump Princess".

Vi Cooke is feeling much better these days. She suffered hip and back injuries in a fall on June 5. Vi would like to thank all her neighbours and friends from Kinmount and Irondale for their cards, gifts and good wishes. Her son Fred and his wife Donna and their children Jamie and Jason Cooke of Cobourg visited with her on June 27.

The campers who attended the movies shown as part of the Canada Day celebration at Balsam Lake provincial park were treated to a piece of birthday cake especially baked and decorated by Helen Graham of Norland for the park.

The library board of Kinmount wishes to thank all their supporters who helped make their recent bake sale the huge success that it was. Kay Allen and granddaughter Michelle of Kinmount are back home from Calgary, Alberta where they holidayed with Kay's son, Gerard Allen.

Don't forget the rummage sale at the Kinmount community hall, sponsored by St.

James Anglican Church on July 10.

A beef barbecue and dance will be held at the Kinmount Fairgrounds August 15 from 4 p.m. with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Adults $7.00, children 12 years and under $3.00. There will be a guest speaker.

Another long weekend is over and yet another flag was stolen from our post office.

Try this recipe for a Baked Salmon Loaf.

Take: 1½ cups of milk, 1 slice of bread, 4 tblspn. of butter, 2 cups canned salmon, 2 eggs, ½ tspn. salt. Heat the milk, bread and butter in top of double boiler until creamy. Beat the eggs and mix with salmon, salt, milk, bread and butter. Stir well. Bake in greased bread pan in moderate oven, 350 degrees F. for 1 hour.

We met a crowd of people we know at the Norman Newman auction sale last week. Every available parking spot was taken. I hope the young lady who purchased the 1939 Oldsmobile coupe got it home safely from the barn.

Get well soon, Bill Menard.

The rest of you stay healthy and happy and be here next week. Have you hugged your child today? 488-2399.

Guilford Pulse Beat

by Bill Wood

Hi Neighbours!!

This week has just about beaten your old news gatherer. There were too many things to do and too little time to do them in!

Last Monday in Haliburton the West Guilford ladies softball team was defeated by the Haliburton girls 17-16. The Haliburton team broke the 16-16 tie in the bottom of the seventh inning to cap the game in their favour.

On Tuesday, the Guilford gals downed the Carnarvon team 32-8. Better luck next time, Carnarvon!

A tip of the "good neighbour hat" to one lady from our area that put in a lot of extra time and effort for the West Guilford ladies softball team's flea market.

Peggy Barry, not only walked three miles Wednesday night to set up the team's table for the Canada Day flea market, she also spent much of the next day running the table like a real salesperson.

I would also like to thank her two daughters, who helped not only their mother, but this reporter and another table, which was short handed.

Many thanks again ladies, and shame on the lack of spirit your team showed in the flea market venture. Where is all the help when you need it?

The crowds were large and the spending spirit was tremendous in the centre's basement, as the eleven vendor's tables were crowded with anxious buyers and lookers on. All the vendors and a great many of the buyers would like to see another flea market sale at the centre in the near future.

The Fort Irwin residents association doubled their profits from the Legion's market on July 3. Jean and I were amazed at the crowd that turned out for the Canada Day celebration. St. Andrew's Church showed a tidy profit from their baked goods and other merchandise. George and Edna Tipton sold all but a few of their plants and due to lack of stock were unable to attend the Legion's flea market last Saturday.

I heard that many of the events were a great success and were enjoyed greatly by the spectators as well as the participants. I know West Guilford was covered quite nicely by the news media, so I will not list all the winners of every event, but I would like to congratulate, Michael McCluskey on his winning the Pine Lake swim. This twelve year old youth, I understand, set a new record for this swim.

Many swimmers, and other people as well, would like to see the Pine Lake swim take place on the August Civic holiday weekend. Gord Simms, from Bitter Lake would have entered the swim, but hasn't had the chance to condition himself for that distance and the water temperature factor.

Perhaps the centre and other local people could "dream" up a Regatta and Dance for that big weekend. I understand that Joan McKay was injured by a line drive from George Nicholls, during the exhibition game between the West Guilford ladies' softball team and "the Old Timers". I heard that the blow to her head was not serious, but honestly fellows, what kind of way to win a game is this, when you have to knock the other team out?

On behalf of the West Guilford Recreation Centre, I would like to thank all the volunteers, the vendors, the area business people, the fine people that donated merchandise, and all the wonderful participating people that made the West Guilford Canada Day celebration such a great success. God Bless you all!

Russell and Doreen Stinson are the proud parents of a spanking new baby daughter. The 10 pound, 4 oz. beauty arrived July 1. It looks like sisters, Lisa and Kendra, will have jobs babysitting and helping mother out with the new arrival.

Congratulations Russ and Doreen!

There is a lot more traffic on the roads now, folks, especially on the weekends, so drive with care.

Call this reporter with news or comments at 754-2854 for next week's Guilford Pulse Beat. Until then God Bless and take care.

Chatting with Irene

This weather in our area is terrific. Most of the area has had enough rain to help the gardens, so why complain about nice weather? I'm not. The only thing is watch out for the week, unseen things that sting you. My left arm got stung on Sunday and is swollen twice its size; but I have medicine for it so I hope the itch and swelling will soon go down.

Sorry that I missed giving the birthdays at the Hyland Crest last week, but here they are: Lillian Miller on

Guild meeting announced

The Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts will hold an Annual Meeting on Monday, July 19 at 8 p.m. in the Dysart Municipal Offices.

According to Guild president Ruth Gorrie, this is an important meeting. Members are urged to attend.

July 2; Carrie Jones on July 12, Wilbert Sisson on July 14, Amelia Good on July 19.

I am very angry over the way the flower boxes were destroyed on the main street over the week-end. Those plants were put in the boxes to help make the town look nicer; when a person scoops a plant from a container, it really is too much. The person was told that it was stealing, but kept right on going.

To go downtown on Sunday and see what had happened to the containers made one wonder if people were "all there". If a person is that hard up for a box of plants, he should ask for help from the people who worked so hard to make the town look nicer. Thanks to the men who replaced the plants in one of the containers.

The art of Walter Noice and Agnes Jamieson will be on display until the end of this week. Then the art of Bruce Mills will go on display.

Glenda Stamp of Whitby visited with the Bud Stamps over the week-end.

Don't forget that this Saturday, July 10 is the skate-a-thon at the arena to raise money for a new sound system for the community centre. This is sponsored by the figure skating club. Pledge sheets are in some of the stores or phone 286-2962 for yours.

St. Paul's Anglican Church Women are holding their summer bazaar on July 10. There will be a whole day of fun for all.

Laura Bird, R.N.A. of Toronto, spent this week at her home, her parents took her back on Sunday, then took their two younger daughters to Canada's Wonderland on Monday.

Remember there are less than four months until election time for the municipalities, so start thinking hard.

next Sunday the Allsaw Pentecostal Church drive-in movie will be All the King's Horses. Their vacation bible school will be from July 12-16, from 9:30 a.m. until 12:00.

Sorry Mr. Watson, I put your poem in last week, and it was cut. This makes me wonder if it is worth while even putting in a column? Maybe it won't be in much longer.

Every Friday evening from 7:15 until 8:15 during the month of July there will be cartoons at the culture centre for children.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brownridge spent a few days at their cottage last week.

The Deckhand Puppet Troupe will be at the library and culture centre on July 22, at 3 p.m.

Lesley A. Brydson will be spending part of July with her grandparents, as she is taking the swimming lessons.

"They say that middle age is when your knees buckle and your belt doesn't."

It wasn't a very good start for the hot July weather, we have been looking forward to but, as the old saying goes, whether its cold or whether its hot, we're going to have weather, whether or not. Since we can't do anything about it we will let it be.

A kitchen shower was given by Lois Sage at her home, Sagewood, on June 26 for Kathy McLennan, who is to be married in August to Rev. Kim Wright.

Kathy received one large gift from the group and numerous kitchen items that I am sure she will find useful. After the gifts were passed around to be admired the guests played a mind tantalizing game.

Lina and Bert Field celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary on June 27 at the old homestead at Hardwood Lake. There were approximately 70 guests present, some coming from distant points such as Fort McMurray, Edmonton, Ottawa, Barrie, Orillia and many other areas.

They were entertained with guitar and accordion music and an abundance of good food.

Lina was born and raised in this area and the Fields lived and raised their family in Dorset, moving to Huntsville after retiring. We wish them many more years of happy married life.

Grandpa

There is something about a grandpa,
That just can't be described;
It may be the kindness in his voice,
Or the wisdom in his eyes.

And there's something, Grandpa, about you,
That I just can't put in place;
It may be the love you touch us with,
Or the gentleness reflected by your face.

It may be the fact that you always help,
Your a handyman at everything;
But I think it's your love for Jesus,
And your faith in your heavenly King.

God has given you to us,
And oh, am I ever glad;
I'm sure I speak for everyone when I say,
You are one of the greatest Grandpa's we have ever had.

Love,

Tracey King

Gooderham News

by Mary Hadley

Graduation exercises were held last Friday in Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School. Graduates from Gooderham, entering grade 9 included: Stephen Hunter, Doug Staley, Mark Noseworthy and David MacDuff. Congratulations boys!

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hartin, Sean and Sarah of Fenelon Falls and Leslie Billings, with his son, Brian, of Lanark were week-end visitors of Grace Billings.

Marie Bird, accompanied by her mother, Grace Billings, went to Gogama last week to take her daughter, Lisa, to the Junior Rangers' camp there where she is employed for the summer months.

I'm sorry to hear that Gregg Hunter is in hospital at Peterborough undergoing tests. We trust that the diagnosis will show that he will soon be well and able to be home again.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Greenwood on the birth of a son, Robert Graham, on July 1, a little brother for Craig.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Pickens of Timmins spent the week-end with Merle's mother, Mae Pickens, and daughter, Vaneta.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hunter with their three sons, and Jim Hunter spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hunter. Darlene Hunter, with the three boys, is remaining for a summer vacation.

Adeline and Ross Hunter of Oshawa spent the week-end with Adeline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Alsop.

Bob and Pat Hadley and daughter Sherry of Barrie and son David of Shubenacadie, N.S., spent the week-end with Bob's mother.

Claribel Sheehan has returned from Florida to spend the summer months at her cottage on Pine Lake.

Last Wednesday 28, Glamorgan senior citizens gathered at the community centre for their pot luck meeting. As usual, there was a variety of food. After the meal, there was a slide presentation with an interesting commentary by Dorothy Robertson of her trip down the MacKenzie River.

Dorothy made us wish we might have been privileged to experience the thrills and excitement of such a cruise. Mr. Kennedy, at the piano, led everyone in a round of old favourites. Card games concluded the evening.

I'm sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Sam McNichol have left our community. We shall miss them and wish them well in their new location.

Lois Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Maxwell has been appointed as new director of patient account services in Mills Hospital, San Francisco. Previously she worked at French Hospital in San Francisco where she was director of P.A.S. and communication services.

Lois was born and educated in Gooderham, and attended York University before moving to California nine years ago. She is a granddaughter of Ruby Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Switzer of Gooderham. We extend our congratulations and best wishes.

Registration for the swim programme was held on July 5 in the Glamorgan Community Centre. The instructor this year will be Jim Lees. Instructions will be given at the public beach in Gooderham, from July 5 to August 5. Courses will include Red Cross Water Safety and Bronze Medallion from R.L.S.

This programme is sponsored by the Glamorgan Recreation and Community Centre Committee.

family of Mrs. Lorne (Mildred) Guest who lived at Kawagama Lake for the last several years and died at her home last week. Funeral services for Guest were held in Hamilton. She had many friends and acquaintances in the Dorset area.

Many local residents were saddened by the death of Mrs. Anna Hawk at a Toronto Hospital after a lengthy illness. Hawk had been living with her daughter Libby Rawding of Bradford but had lived most of her life in Dwight.

The Rawding family had lived in Dorset for a number of years and Libby had operated a beauty parlor over Clayton's store. Hawk has a sister, Mrs. Millie McEachern, and a brother, Chuck Keown, residing in Dorset. All family members have our sincere sympathy.

Be sure and get your reservation in for the Woodbine trip by July 10, return bus fare is $14.00. Contact Ralph Raven, 766-2605. A great chance to have a fun day at the races.

Some other reminders: Lions bingo is every Monday and Thursday during the summer at the community centre and don't forget the arts and crafts show on July 10 at the centre.

Some recent visitors to the village were Agnes Cassidy of Orillia, her sisters Terry Western of Toronto and Marie Lindsay of Michigan. The sisters were born and lived in Dorset during their childhood, their parents operated a general store and ice cream parlor which is now the community parking lot, next to the Lumberjack Inn, then the Dorset Hotel. Mr. Cassidy also operated the post office in his store.

H.H. If you cut the faded blossoms off your lilac tree it will bloom more beautifully next year. With each load of clothes that you put in your dryer, throw a large dry bath towel. You'll be amazed at how much faster your clothes will dry.

sons, Lesley is from Bracebridge.

They tell me there will be a special ball game between the Minden Dixie Lee ladies senior ball team and the "Boys in Blue". The date set for this challenge game is July 8 at 7:30 p.m. in Minden.

The United Church annual summer dinner is being held next Wednesday evening from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m., there is a bazaar as well. Watch for the posters in the stores.

The Agnes Jamieson art gallery is pleased to present the art of Bruce Mills, from July 13 to July 28. There will be a special opening on Tuesday, July 13 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served and everyone is welcome.

Adios and take care.

work together, summoning all our intelligence, all our dedication, all our strength. We must submerge our differences in the common cause of the survival and prosperity of our country.

Here in Canada, we face problems which are common to many nations and many people on this crowded and troubled planet. Regardless of present setbacks, we here in Canada are still among the most fortunate people in the world, in terms of natural resources, cultural enrichment and personal freedom.

The maple tree has, for generations, been considered symbolic of Canada. More than a to third and Peter Scheffee brought him home with a sacrifice hit.

The fourth and fifth were scoreless innings for the Lumbermen.

In the bottom of the fourth Kevin O'Hara took the circuit for Curry Motors in the only action for either team that inning.

In the Motormen half of the fifth Al Cooper was first at bat and hit a single. The next two Motormen struck out and it looked like it would be a short inning when Barry Boice hit a grounder for a single.

O'Hara's three base, two RBI hit clinched a strong lead for the Curry Motors squad. O'Hara was also able to make a trip across home plate when Art Dawson tipped a single.

The sixth inning saw no action for the Lumbermen once again but the bottom saw Motormen Cooper and John Mackie pick up additional runs for their team.

Although both Winn and Nicholls crossed the plate for Haliburton Lumber in the seventh their runs were not enough to pull the game out of the fire. The final score was Curry Motors 7, Haliburton Lumber 4.

Motormen make two runs to tie

the Motormen picked up two more runs to tie the game up. Mike Rae and John Mackie crossed home for the Motormen.

The top of the fifth was scoreless for the Legion. In the Curry Motors' half John Parish belted a solid hit for three bases. He was brought home by Mike MacNaull.

The sixth inning saw the Legion come on strong with three runs. Wells Robertson, George Nicholls and Cooper all crossed the plate for the Legionnaires.

Going in to the bottom of the sixth the Motormen were behind by two points. However, runs by Mackie, MacNaull and Scheffee put the Curry squad ahead, going into the seventh.

The Legion was unable to pick up any points in the seventh although Robertson made it to third.

The final score was Curry Motors over the Legion 7-6. In a game on Thursday Beachli Construction beat Kennedy Surplus 6-4.

In the opening half Kennedy went three up and three down as Brian Mulholland, Jeff Carpenter and Dwight Sisson were unable to get to first base.

The Beachli Construction gang picked up two runs in the bottom of the first, John Wilson and Kevin Sisson crossing home plate for the team. Peter Fearrey's two base RBI brought Sisson home.

In the top of the second Ron Linklater hit a double and was brought in by Bernie Upton's single. Upton also got across home plate on a two base hit from Derwin Barry.

The third inning was scoreless for both teams.

In the bottom of the fourth Wilson hit a homer to put Beachli Construction ahead by one point. In the fifth inning they increased their lead with two more runs.

John Robinson and Fearrey were both on deck when Chris Hodgson hit a double to bring both of his teammates around the diamond.

The top of the sixth saw no action for the Legion once again but the bottom saw Mark Schell pick up Beachli's final run of the game.

Two runs by Legionnaires in the top of the seventh could not reverse Beachli's tide of victory.

Jerry Walker and Doug Rupay both crossed home for Legion. Walker was brought in by Scott Cooke's single and Rupay finished his run on the strength of a single from Mulholland.

The final score was 6-4 for Beachli Construction.

century ago, that symbolic tree was spoken of in these terms: "This tree - the maple - which grows in our valleys... at first young and beaten by the storm, pines away, painfully feeding itself from the earth, but it soon springs up tall and strong, and faces the tempest and triumphs over the wind which cannot shake it any more. The maple is the king of the forest, it is the symbol of the Canadian people."

We are certainly in the process of being "beaten by the storm". Some people may be tempted to "pine away", turning from the difficult task of solving our fundamental problems.

However, I believe that for the most part, we are determined to gather our resources and work together to solve our problems, to do what must be done, to ensure that this country will spring up "tall and strong" once again.

buy a new home on which construction starts before December 31, 1982.

If you are a first time buyer an equivalent grant is available if you buy before December 31, 1982. If you are renewing your mortgage and your new payments will be greater than 30% of your gross income you may now be able to qualify for a grant without having to defer interest before becoming eligible under the already existing Canada Mortgage Renewal Program.

Incidentally, in the first six months of its operation, only 900 of the estimated 37,500 households that qualified for grants under the Canada Mortgage Renewal Program applied. Obviously $3,000 is not enough to convince people that they can now afford to buy at today's prices and with today's interest rates. I do not know what the government thinks more grants of this type will be anymore appealing.

The Budget allocates an additional $100 million for loans to farmers in financial distress. The loans will be made at regular FCC interest rates but a rebate of 4 percentage points will be provided for the first two years of the loan. A farmer will be classified as being in financial distress if he requires the loan and associated interest rebate to survive in the short run.

Farmers able to obtain small business bond financing will not normally be considered for a loan. Loan recipients will be required to put into effect a recovery plan acceptable to the FCC, to accept counselling for at least two years, and to provide whatever information the FCC may require to monitor their progress.

32. IN MEMORIAM

UPTON - In loving memory of our father and grandfather, HAROLD,
who passed away July 10, 1974.

We do not need a special day
To bring you to our mind
For the days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
So you who have a Father
Cherish him with care.
For you'll never know the sorrow
Till you see his vacant chair.

Remembered always, by sons and daughters and grandchildren. 32-P-7

Rested at the Jennett
UPTON - In loving memory of my dear husband,
HAROLD, who passed away July 10, 1974.

Alone, but never quite alone
I face an empty chair.
But sometimes in the silence
I imagine you are there.
My companion for so many years
No longer here with me,
And yet in some mysterious way
You keep me company.

Forever loved and sadly missed, by wife Laura.
32-P-7

TRAVISS, MAIZIE. In loving memory of a dear mother, grandmother and great grandmother.

Times cannot steal the treasures
That we carry in our hearts
Nor ever dim the shining thoughts
Our cherished passed imparts
And memories of the one we loved
Still cast their gentle glow
To grace our days and light
our paths,
Wherever we may go.

Sadly missed by daughter
Beatrice, son - in - law
Charles, grandsons Jeffrey and wife Diane; Gregory; Philip; David; and great grandson Luke. 32-P-7

HARVIE, FRED - In loving memory of a dear husband, who passed away
July 3, 1976.

God looked around his garden
and found an empty place.
He then looked down upon his earth,
and saw your tired face.
He put his arms around you
and lifted you to rest God's garden must be beautiful
He only takes the best.
Thinking of the thoughtful things
That you have said and done
and loving you a little more
For each and every one.

Lovingly and sadly missed
by wife Ethel. 32-B-7

Report from Parliament

I hope that farmers that need this can afford to wait the time necessary for their approval and can put up with the restrictive provisions required.

A mortgage deductibility program and a program to provide small businessmen, farmers and fishermen with low interest loans for new investment were mentioned in the budget as well, but they are to be studied only. A "Committee of prominent Canadians" is to examine these proposals and others which would decrease the rate of taxation on Canadian investments and advise the Minister of Finance of their feasibility by September 30.

Mr. MacEachen has also asked all Canadians to send their comments on the proposed programs to him directly. I urge every homeowner that lost their dream of home ownership when interest rates skyrocketed to take pen in hand and tell the Finance Minister what the long delay in its implementation has cost them.

Similarly, every Canadian in small business, farming, fishing and indeed all Canadians interested in the economy should be asking him why he simply set up another study and did nothing concrete to help.

MacEachen said in his budget that it is the fault of the people that spending is out of control. He said that the Government will not change its economic policies.

According to him the solution to our high interest rate problems is out of his control. He feels it is up to the U.S. Government to shoulder the blame.

However, he then proceeded to try and rectify the inflation rate problem by cutting the salary increases of public servants and asking the provincial governments and the private sector to abide by the same guidelines of 6 percent increases this year and 5 percent next year.

He cut the indexing of public service pensions by the same amounts, asking the private sector to do the same. On top of all this, he cut the indexing of old age security pensions and family allowances to 6 percent this year and 5 percent next year.

The crowning blow was putting a ceiling on the increase of personal exemptions on income tax of 6 percent for 1983 and 5 percent for 1984. This means every taxpayer faces stiff increases in their tax payable, as their deductions may not keep up with the cost of living.

The Finance Minister claimed to be sympathetic to the plight of Canadian investors. He said the relaxation of the application of FIRA was to help attract investment. At the same time he was announcing that the deficit projected in November was a conservative estimate and that the budgetary deficit has climbed to $19.6 billion, almost double that projected. This means our financial requirements are now projected at $17.2 billion.

How can the private sector expect to get funds from foreign markets when the federal government must borrow in such a large scale?

This budget has done nothing to inspire confidence in our economy, it may instead cause even higher interest rates. It is time MacEachen swallowed his pride and asked Trudeau to relieve him of the task of finance minister and appoint someone who has some new ideas and is not afraid to admit he can make mistakes. MacEachen-omics simply does not work.
